ICBEB 2025 INVITATION

14th International Conference on Biomedical Engineering and Biotechnology November 4-7, 2025, Matsue, Japan

Home About ICBEB

The 14th International Conference on Biomedical Engineering and Biotechnology (ICBEB 2025) will take place in Matsue, Japan, from November 4-7, 2025.

ICBEB, initiated in 2012, serves to foster communication among researchers working across a wide variety of scientific areas with a common interest in all fields of Biomedical Engineering and Biotechnology. It provides an extensive platform for attendees to present diverse perspectives and empirical studies that shed light on recent trends, challenges, and issues in biomedical practices.

In combination with a keynote forum, invited talks, oral presentations, poster sessions, and panel discussions, ICBEB 2025 will also welcome exhibitions.

On behalf of the organizing committee, we cordially invite you to participate in ICBEB 2025 and experience the multicultural diversity in Matsue, Japan!

Explore Matsue, Japan

Matsue, often referred to as the "City of Water," is a picturesque city located in Shimane Prefecture, on the western coast of Japan's main island. Renowned for its stunning natural beauty, Matsue is embraced by Lake Shinji and the Ohashi River, which lend the city its nickname and contribute to its serene atmosphere. The cityscape features a harmonious blend of traditional Japanese architecture and modern elements. With its seamless integration of history, nature, and modernity, Matsue offers a unique and authentic Japanese experience that captivates visitors from around the globe.

On behalf of the organizing committee, we cordially invite scientists, scholars, and exhibitors to participate in ICBEB 2025. We look forward to meeting you in Matsue, Japan.
